Hello John,

I have been talking to Tim in service from EuroMasterLand and he has fixed me right up. He said there is a guy in TX (that you found online...you're my HERO!) who rebuilds Warm-Up Regulators. He gave me Mr. Hervey's name out in TX, and I called him and we hit it off. I called the Porsche place and they are going to take mine out today and we will send it off. Mr. Hervey will get it Monday and send mine out again...should have it Wed. Yea John! Yea Tim!

A funny side note...I was coming back from a meeting yesterday in Nashville, stopped in the not-so- rich side of town, getting gas at my favorite "no-corn" place and I hear, "Great car!" I looked up in time to see an ADT Security Truck do a "U'ee" across four lanes of traffic and pull into the gas station stopping in front of me. He was all over the car. I told him my EuroMasters story...and wrote down your edress in his notebook. I told him to tell all his friends.

Perhaps, you could send me some of your cards so I could hand out daily as people stop me...that way, I won' be writing out your edress like autographs. Anyway, thought you'd appreciate the story.

Hope things are going well for the king and his court in EuroMasterLand...it's summer in the south here...98 degrees by noon...ah, steamy!
